

PRO(F)LITERACY 2.0 NEWSLETTER #2

APRIL 2024

► SUCCESSFUL IMPLEMENTATION OF THE 1ST VIRTUAL MOBILITY

During the first months of 2024, PRO(F)LITERACY 2.0 partners held their first virtual mobility titled “Tax Systems Roundtable”, led by EUROSUD, the Italian partner. The session was led by Professor Giulio Albano, a renowned expert in economics, who delivered an in-depth exploration of the Italian tax system. His presentation provided a detailed overview of Italy's fiscal framework, including the classification and roles of taxes, duties, and contributions. He explained the distinctions between direct taxes, such as personal income tax (IRPEF) and corporate income tax (IRES), and indirect taxes, like VAT, highlighting their impact on public services and revenue generation. The session also examined public spending, fiscal pressure, and anti-evasion tools like the tax registry, underlining their importance in promoting fairness and economic stability. Concluding with insights into the role of fiscal policy in balancing public service delivery and fostering economic growth, the session emphasized the need for informed and adaptable tax systems to address modern economic challenges effectively.

After the first virtual mobility, all partners conducted the second virtual mobility on PADLET on the topic ‘Challenges faced by Youth Workers and Solutions about the previous topic (VideoCast)’. They created short and dynamic videos talking about the challenges faced when teaching Financial Literacy and what strategies they usually use to overcome this.
